Understanding that sustainability is a significant opportunity as well as an important responsibility for our company, we began, a year ago, to report on our sustainability initiatives utilizing the GRI-G4 framework. In this, our second year of reporting, we continue to progress on our sustainability journey, making strides on this key indicator of our success as a company and as a corporate citizen.

This year, we have expanded the measurement of our greenhouse gas emissions to include not only our largest buildings in the United States, but also nearly all of our properties in the UK. Our plan is to continue to expand this boundary to get a fuller picture of our impact as well as to set targets for reduction going forward. We have also continued our support of the UN Global Compact. As a UN Global Compact signatory, we have publically committed to the 10 principles that the compact embraces in the areas of environmental sustainability, fair labor practices, human rights and anti-corruption.

Importantly, this past year, IPG signed onto Common Ground, an initiative that brings together the major marketing and advertising holding companies in support of the UN Sustainable Development Goals. IPG adopted UN Sustainable Development Goal Number 6, ensuring access to water and sanitation for all. Our agencies are engaged in many initiatives that foster the advancement of goal 6. We've partnered with our clients to creatively raise awareness about saving children's lives by educating moms on hand washing, we are part of a consortium that is bringing freshwater research - and the sport of rowing -- to the Kafue River in Zambia, and we have helped raise money for clean water around the world. IPG has also produced a video about its involvement with clean water and sanitation.

We have developed a cross-agency, interdisciplinary team devoted to our support of SDG #6. This team is working to maximize the impact of IPG's existing work on water and sanitation, as well as to broaden and deepen our work in this key area during the coming year.

IPG's commitment to our communities continues to include employee volunteerism, broad-based pro bono and client work, as well as traditional cash donations and management commitment to not-for-profit leadership. These initiatives include teen suicide prevention, tackling the effects of air pollution on children and encouraging urban sanitation in India. IPG's community involvement continues to have a positive impact in the places around the world where we do business, and where our employees and their families live and work.

Sustainability matters to IPG as a citizen of the world and as a company that needs to continue to succeed in the marketplace. Doing what's right for our communities is an important part of our DNA and of our history. We look forward to continuing to deepen and broaden our commitment to sustainability during the year ahead.

IPG Employees

Note this response is cross-referenced for G4-10, G4-LA1, G4-LA2, G4-LA10, and G4-LA11

Ours is a talent-driven business and our employees are our most important asset. We understand that to be successful in a creative industry, it is key that our employee base reflects the diversity of our clients' consumers, and that we ensure a workplace that encourages and accepts diversity.

IPG began its formal diversity and inclusion (D&I) commitment more than a decade ago and was the first company in our industry to hire a dedicated Director of Diversity and Inclusion. To ensure accountability, our executives' compensation is linked to their agencies' performance on diversity and inclusion and we have instituted a comprehensive company-wide diversity and inclusion program. D&I initiatives include our business resource groups that develop career-building programs, as well as training around topics like unconscious bias. We are also unique in our industry in that we regularly measure the inclusiveness of our culture with a company-wide climate for inclusion survey. IPG has received numerous honors for its diversity and inclusion programs. These include the 2016 Champions of Diversity Exemplary Best Practices Award from the New York Urban League, eight 100 percent scores on the Corporate Equality Index, an annual survey by the Human Rights Campaign (HRC) ranking companies based on their policies and practices relating to gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender employees and recognition for gender diversity on our board by the Women's Forum of New York.

The information in this section focuses on the composition of our workforce as well as how our employees are trained through our varied and robust development programs.

G4-10 and G4-LA1

Report the total number of employees by employment contract and gender, number of permanent employees by employment type and gender, total workforce by employees and supervised workers and by gender, the total workforce by region and gender, report whether a substantial portion of the organizations work is performed by workers who are legally recognized as self-employed, or by individuals other than employees or supervised workers, including employees and supervised employees of contractors, report any significant variations in employment numbers

Total number and rates of new employee hires and employee turnover by age group, gender and region

Since we began our formal D&I programs in 2005, IPG's workforce demographics in the U.S. have changed dramatically. Through 2015, there has been an improvement of more than 55% within African American, Hispanic and Asian minority groups in the "Officials and Managers" category.

IPG exceeded the U.S. Ad Industry External Workforce Benchmark in both "Officials and Managers" and "Professionals" categories for women and total minorities in 2015, the most recent annual filing.

Additional results from IPG's 2015 workforce data show that:

- Minorities make up 19% of US "Officials and Managers," an increase of 94% since 2005.
- The "Professional" talent base is 26% minority, an increase of 35% since 2005.
- Women make up 54% of all the company's managers – including executive, senior and first & mid-level management – an increase of 16% since 2005.

G4-LA2

Benefits provided to full-time employees that are not provided to temporary or part-time employees, by significant locations of operation

Full-time and part-time employees working 20 hours or more on a regular basis receive a full range of medical benefits.

For the temporary employee population, an employee must work an average of 30 hours per week or more over a 12-month period in order to be eligible for the IPG Medical plan only. They are excluded from all other benefits.

We do not make a distinction by location, if an employee is on the IPG payroll and meets the requirements, they are offered benefits.

G4-LA10

Programs for Skills Management and Lifelong Learning That Support the Continued Employability of Employees and Assist Them in Managing Career Ending

Recruiting, retaining and promoting great talent is key to our long-term success. Skills training and executive development are important components of how we work with our people to ensure their success and the continued success of IPG.

Educational Assistance

IPG encourages and financially supports continuing education and development programs that meet the career goals of our employees which are aligned with the needs of our business. Regular full-time and part-time employees can achieve professional career goals through taking job-related courses at an accredited school, college or university and be reimbursed for up to 75 percent of the tuition expenses. Whether taking a standalone course or making a commitment to a bachelors or masters degree program, attending traditional-style classes or non-traditional (e.g., on-line or accelerated) programs, employees and their managers work together to support development.

Individual Department Training

It is critical for employees to maintain required credentials, gain skills with new technologies, manage department change, keep up with role-specific information, and onboard to new roles. Whatever the situation, individual departments provide training through a variety of means including staff meetings, global conferences, in-house speakers, periodicals/online services and colleague-to-colleague instruction.

Skills-Building Training

IPG offers managers and employees skill-building training via live classroom and live and recorded webcasts for employees across the globe to enhance foundational skills including coaching, interviewing, project management, workplace respect, communication, conflict resolution, customer service and performance management. Our training programs aim to educate employees on core competencies and empower participants to bring to life such skills in the workplace.

Global Training

Operating ethically and with the highest standards of integrity is critical to our continued success. IPG's Code of Conduct forms the basis of how we interact with each other, with our vendors and with our clients. Each year, IPG provides employees with training on the Code of Conduct, and highlights different topics of particular importance to focus on during these trainings.

IPG Leadership Lab

The IPG Leadership Lab is a selective global executive development program for senior-level leaders within IPG agencies. The program draws high potential executives from across IPG and provides an intensive leadership development experience featuring in-market immersion, engagement with IPG executives, cross-agency peer coaching, and personal leadership feedback and planning. Held yearly since 2013, the IPG Leadership Lab has strengthened agency leadership while enhancing collaboration across IPG.

Internship Program

The IPG Internship program offer students meaningful projects that provide an introduction to our industry while also developing a highly-valued future talent pool. Interns are provided with the tools and guidance that allow their roles to be “hands on” educational experiences. Working with knowledgeable mentors, interns gain exposure to a broad range of processes and new technologies as well as substantive knowledge about our industry. Internships are offered during the summer and in a limited number of areas, year round.

Transition Assistance

IPG provides employees with support, as needed, through myriad transitions that take place over the employment life cycle (e.g., transitioning to a new role, transitioning back to work from a leave of absence or transitioning to retirement). This might include retirement and financial planning resources, coaching and career guidance, work-life balance resources and flexible work arrangements.

IPG Learning & Development Site - This site provides a wealth of diverse online courses and provides resources at employees' fingertips. There are multiple skill-building courses offered on management and leadership, performance management, writing & communication, diversity & inclusion, customer service, project management and personal development. Also offered are a wide variety of technical courses. Many of these courses are offered in multiple languages to meet the needs of our global population; languages include Mandarin, Japanese, Italian, German, French, Portuguese, and Spanish. The site also hosts numerous thought-provoking resources including articles, videos and free webinars addressing diverse topics.

Managing Day-to-Day series - This interactive, scenario-based live webcast series complements our “Managers Quick Reference Guide: Managing Day-to-Day Employment Issues,” a resource for our IPG Corporate managers. The series addresses a multitude of management topics and participating managers are asked what they would do in certain situations. Then our Human Resources and Legal experts offer their perspectives. “Managing Day-to-Day” resources can also be found on our IPG Learning & Development Site.

MyLead - MyLead is an IPG enterprise-wide offered program, targeting senior managers for leadership development. It is an interactive leadership immersion experience which includes business simulation and real-time executive coaching. The program is designed to develop areas of responsibility that are most relevant to leadership roles in our industry and include Business Leadership, Client Leadership, and People Leadership.

The Art and Science of Leadership (TASL) - Like MyLead, TASL is an IPG enterprise-wide offering. This offering targets newer managers or those who need to further develop their core management skills. TASL participants learn key facets of leadership via an on-line, interactive experience. Participants are also involved in business simulations in which they face realistic skill challenges. An executive coach partners with each participant to discuss his/her activities, provides the participant with specific behavioral feedback, helps plan for future development, and helps the participant to apply the new skills back at work.

Percentage of employees receiving regular performance and career development reviews, by gender and by employee category

Performance Management - IPG advocates for all employees to actively participate and invest in performance management. Aligning individual goals with organizational objectives not only allows employees to better understand what is expected of them and how important their contributions are to the business, but it also empowers them to champion their own personal development. Our corporate process is guided by a new ePerformance on-line tool. The tool is a catalyst to promote discussion between managers and employees about personal and business goals, development plans and career aspirations. Two thirds of IPG employees actively participate in our on-line performance management process.

Each year, IPG spends over $2 billion on products and services from more than 75,000 suppliers around the world.

The Global Sourcing & Procurement (GS&P) function at IPG leverages the collective buying power of all of our agencies across the world and applies a disciplined approach to sourcing and procurement in the categories where we have significant spend, including pass thru spend.

GS&P follows a standard strategic sourcing process. Included in the process is a due diligence phase during which we assess a number of key criteria, including the financial strength, capabilities, capacity, quality of products and services, commitment to diversity and sustainability, and the total cost of ownership associated with suppliers we do business with. Read more about this in our Supplier Code of Conduct which can be accessed at the following link:

<http://www.interpublic.com/about/corporate-governance><http://www.interpublic.com/about/corporate-governance>.

Supplier diversity and sustainability are a key component of our strategic sourcing process and our current and potential clients are highly interested in our approach. We are firmly committed to providing an inclusive environment for minority- and women-owned businesses.

On an ongoing basis, we conduct business review meetings with our key suppliers during which we discuss the feedback we have received from our business units regarding the supplier's performance. In conjunction with supplier reviews, we continually assess the competitive landscape within each of our key supplier verticals. Based upon the feedback received from the business units and the competitive landscape, RFP timelines are established to ensure IPG agencies and clients are receiving best-in-class service and pricing.

IPG understands that suppliers are independent entities, but the business practices and actions of a supplier may significantly impact and/or reflect upon us, our reputation and our brands, which are among most important assets. Because of this, and because we are committed to operating sustainably, IPG expects all suppliers and their employees, agents and subcontractors (their representatives) to adhere to the IPG Code of Conduct <http://www.interpublic.com/about/corporate-governance> while they are conducting business with and/or on behalf of IPG.

There have been no significant changes in the structure of the IPG supply chain or relationships with suppliers. IPG's relationships with suppliers are governed by our Supplier Code of Conduct which asks that IPG suppliers follow the IPG Code of Conduct. In addition, and as indicated in the Supplier Code, IPG expects that its suppliers share the same social responsibility as IPG with regards to sustainability, diversity, human rights and equal opportunity in the workplace.

During 2013, we recorded approximately $97.0 of goodwill and intangible assets related to these acquisitions.

Acquisition Strategy

A disciplined acquisition strategy, focused on high-growth capabilities and regions of the world, is one component of growing our services in today's rapidly-changing marketing services and media landscape. When an outstanding resource or a strong tactical fit becomes available, we have been opportunistic in making tuck-in, niche acquisitions that enhance our service offerings. We will continue to focus on digital and marketing services agencies throughout the world and on key international growth markets.

In recent years, IPG has acquired agencies across the marketing spectrum, including firms specializing in digital, mobile marketing, social media, healthcare communications and public relations, as well as agencies with full-service capabilities. These acquired agencies have been integrated into one of our global networks or specialist agencies. In 2015, IPG's acquisitions included a full-service digital agency in the U.K., the Russian creative agencies previously owned by ADV and a media and planning buying agency with significant digital capabilities in Canada.

General Standard Disclosures: Identified Material Aspects & Boundaries

GRI Indicator	G4-18	Reporting Level

- a. Explain the process for defining the report content and the Aspect Boundaries.
- b. Explain how the organization has implemented the Reporting Principles for Defining Report Content.

Interpublic completed a comprehensive materiality process with the assistance of The Governance & Accountability Institute, an independent third-party. IPG examined the importance of each GRI indicator and various sustainability issues to key important stakeholder groups including our peers, largest customers, employees and investors.

We then reviewed the results with an internal team of senior management to make the final decisions on what is considered to be material to Interpublic and its stakeholders.

Based on this process we selected our material aspects, indicators and report content.

We are continuing as an organization to engage with our stakeholders, and further examining what additional sustainability aspects are important to them and to our business.

In the future we will update the report content to include the results of these engagements and considerations as we continue to develop our sustainability program.

G4-24: Provide a list of stakeholder groups engaged by the organization.

G4-25: Report the basis for identification and selection of stakeholders with whom to engage.

G4-26: Report the organization's approach to stakeholder engagement, including frequency of engagement by type and by stakeholder group, and an indication of whether any of the engagement was undertaken specifically as part of the report preparation process.

Interpublic Group's most important stakeholders are our clients, employees, and investors.

We work with our clients to ensure that the marketing communications programs we design for them are most efficiently and effectively moving their businesses forward. In order to ensure that our clients are successful and that we maintain our competitive positioning in the marketplace, we must always make certain that our business is aligned with clients' changing needs and the ever-changing consumer landscape. Ours is a talent business and, to serve our clients in the best way possible, we must recruit and retain top talent

Finally, as a public company, it's essential that we meet the expectations of our shareholders who make it possible for us to do best-in-class work on behalf of our clients.

Interpublic Group conducted a materiality assessment with the assistance of our sustainability consultant, Governance & Accountability Institute, the exclusive data partner for the Global Reporting Initiative in the United States.

We conducted research on key players from our key constituents – clients, employees and investors. In addition, we had discussions with internal proxies representing these groups to learn more about which areas are critical for us to focus on in our sustainability strategy. We also engage regularly with these key stakeholder groups during our normal business operations. Increasingly we are receiving various questions and surveys from clients asking about particular aspects of our sustainability program which enables us to learn more about their areas of focus as well as their concerns.

In addition to these three key groups, we took into account other stakeholder groups such as NGOs, government, academia, and our industry peers, which all provide important insight into the sustainability issues that are important to IPG, our clients and our industry.

Based on the results of this stakeholder inclusive materiality process, we have chosen the GRI aspects and indicators that we include as part of this report. In addition, we are continuing to improve the way we engage with these important stakeholders on an ongoing basis to further inform our sustainability strategy moving forward.

Report key topics and concerns that have been raised through stakeholder engagement, and how the organization has responded to those key topics and concerns, including through its reporting. Report the stakeholder groups that raised each of the key topics and concerns.

Sustainability is a key priority for IPG as it is for our stakeholders, including employees, clients and shareholders. We regularly engage with each of these groups on these topics, as we do with all matters of mutual importance. IPG and its agencies work with clients on projects that highlight such matters of importance and many of these engagements are featured on our STRONGER website which is devoted exclusively to the coverage of sustainability.

Recent work in this area has included:

FCB Hamburg's campaign about Syrian refugees

McCann Global Health's Work to Eradicate Polio in Pakistan and Sustainability in all its forms – environmental responsibility, good corporate citizenship, ensuring socially-responsible business practices – is important and integral to the way we do business around the world.

In terms of suppliers, IPG IT actively assesses the credentials and qualifications of our partners and encourages them to adopt environmentally friendly policies. At IPG, we source from a wide base of suppliers to ensure economic advantage for our clients.

Each year, around the world, IPG agencies work to make a difference in the communities where our agencies operate. These projects can be seen on the STRONGER section of our website and include partnering with the United Nations on furthering Sustainable Development Goal #6, access to clean water and sanitation, working to eradicate polio in Pakistan and bringing awareness to domestic violence in Vienna.

In developing nations where IPG operates, IPG agencies, by the nature of their business, help local businesses to be more productive in terms of their marketing and promotional activities. IPG agencies in local markets around the world purchase goods and services from local businesses and entrepreneurs and, of course, employ individuals from local communities. All of these activities benefit the local economies where IPG agencies operate.

IPG Employees

Note this response is cross-referenced for G4-10, G4-LA1, G4-LA2, G4-LA10, and G4-LA11

Ours is a talent-driven business and our employees are our most important asset. We understand that to be successful in a creative industry, it is key that our employee base reflects the diversity of our clients' consumers, and that we ensure a workplace that encourages and accepts diversity.

IPG began its formal diversity and inclusion (D&I) commitment more than a decade ago and was the first company in our industry to hire a dedicated Director of Diversity and Inclusion. To ensure accountability, our executives' compensation is linked to their agencies' performance on diversity and inclusion and we have instituted a comprehensive company-wide diversity and inclusion program. D&I initiatives include our business resource groups that develop career-building programs, as well as training around topics like unconscious bias. We are also unique in our industry in that we regularly measure the inclusiveness of our culture with a company-wide climate for inclusion survey. IPG has received numerous honors for its diversity and inclusion programs. These include the 2016 Champions of Diversity Exemplary Best Practices Award from the New York Urban League, eight 100 percent scores on the Corporate Equality Index, an annual survey by the Human Rights Campaign (HRC) ranking companies based on their policies and practices relating to gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender employees and recognition for gender diversity on our board by the Women's Forum of New York.

The information in this section focuses on the composition of our workforce as well as how our employees are trained through our varied and robust development programs.

G4-10 and G4-LA1

Report the total number of employees by employment contract and gender, number of permanent employees by employment type and gender, total workforce by employees and supervised workers and by gender, the total workforce by region and gender, report whether a substantial portion of the organizations work is performed by workers who are legally recognized as self-employed, or by individuals other than employees or supervised workers, including employees and supervised employees of contractors, report any significant variations in employment numbers

Total number and rates of new employee hires and employee turnover by age group, gender and region

Since we began our formal D&I programs in 2005, IPG's workforce demographics in the U.S. have changed dramatically. Through 2015, there has been an improvement of more than 55% within African American, Hispanic and Asian minority groups in the "Officials and Managers" category.

IPG exceeded the U.S. Ad Industry External Workforce Benchmark in both "Officials and Managers" and "Professionals" categories for women and total minorities in 2015, the most recent annual filing.

Additional results from IPG's 2015 workforce data show that:

- Minorities make up 19% of US "Officials and Managers," an increase of 94% since 2005.
- The "Professional" talent base is 26% minority, an increase of 35% since 2005.
- Women make up 54% of all the company's managers – including executive, senior and first & mid-level management – an increase of 16% since 2005.

G4-LA2

Benefits provided to full-time employees that are not provided to temporary or part-time employees, by significant locations of operation

Full-time and part-time employees working 20 hours or more on a regular basis receive a full range of medical benefits.

For the temporary employee population, an employee must work an average of 30 hours per week or more over a 12-month period in order to be eligible for the IPG Medical plan only. They are excluded from all other benefits.

We do not make a distinction by location, if an employee is on the IPG payroll and meets the requirements, they are offered benefits.

G4-LA10

Programs for Skills Management and Lifelong Learning That Support the Continued Employability of Employees and Assist Them in Managing Career Ending

Recruiting, retaining and promoting great talent is key to our long-term success. Skills training and executive development are important components of how we work with our people to ensure their success and the continued success of IPG.

Educational Assistance

IPG encourages and financially supports continuing education and development programs that meet the career goals of our employees which are aligned with the needs of our business. Ours is a talent-driven business and our employees are our most important asset. We understand that to be successful in a creative industry, it is key that our employee base reflects the diversity of our clients' consumers, and that we ensure a workplace that encourages and accepts diversity.

IPG began its formal diversity and inclusion (D&I) commitment more than a decade ago and was the first company in our industry to hire a dedicated Director of Diversity and Inclusion. To ensure accountability, our executives' compensation is linked to their agencies' performance on diversity and inclusion and we have instituted a comprehensive company-wide diversity and inclusion program. D&I initiatives include our business resource groups that develop career-building programs, as well as training around topics like unconscious bias. We are also unique in our industry in that we regularly measure the inclusiveness of our culture with a company-wide climate for inclusion survey. IPG has received numerous honors for its diversity and inclusion programs. These include the 2016 Champions of Diversity Exemplary Best Practices Award from the New York Urban League, eight 100 percent scores on the Corporate Equality Index, an annual survey by the Human Rights Campaign (HRC) ranking companies based on their policies and practices relating to gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender employees and recognition for gender diversity on our board by the Women's Forum of New York.

- Minorities make up 19% of US "Officials and Managers," an increase of 94% since 2005.
- The "Professional" talent base is 26% minority, an increase of 35% since 2005.
- Women make up 54% of all the company's managers - including executive, senior and first & mid-level management - an increase of 16% since 2005.

We provide our employees with a number of different approaches to express concerns about their work environments. As described in the Interpublic Code of Conduct, which covers all employees, IPG employees may report concerns to their managers, to local Human Resources offices, to corporate Human Resources, to IPG Legal staff, or to IPG's Chief Risk Officer. We also provide a telephone hotline, as required by U.S. law, which is called the "IPG Alertline."

This hotline is available by telephone or email 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Where permitted by local law, reports to the Alertline may be made anonymously. All reports are investigated, and our policy very clearly states that there will be no retaliation against anyone who makes a report in good faith.

This year Interpublic has continued our journey of calculating GHG emissions by expanding our initial boundary to include offices in the United Kingdom. This is in addition to our original boundary which included our largest offices in North America. In North America we included all offices which are over 100,000 square feet and in the UK we included 90% of our leased facilities and 100% of our owned facilities. Our Scope 1 and Scope 2 calculations in North America were completed using Measurabl, the online sustainability data software, which aligns its carbon accounting algorithms to the WRI/WBCSD's GHG Protocol, Revised Edition methodologies. To calculate carbon emissions, we use US EPA e-Grid emissions factors for buildings within the United States and national-level emissions factors for buildings outside the United States.

To calculate our UK emissions we were supplied with an annual emissions report by Green Element. The calculations completed by Green Element are in accordance with the GHG Protocol using 2014 conversions factors for purchased electricity and gas. Where up to 3 months' worth of data was not available or accurate, the missing data was estimated using a monthly average for that supply.

The expanded boundary as of the end of 2015 included 29% of our worldwide headcount, and 27% of our worldwide square footage.

Below are the combined calculated Scope 1 and 2 emissions come solely from electricity usage and heating fuel:

Scope 1:

Reductions in energy requirements of products and services

1. Report the reductions in the energy requirements of sold products and services achieved during the reporting period, in joules or multiples.
2. Report the basis for calculating reductions in energy consumption such as base year or baseline, and the rationale for choosing it.
3. Report standards, methodologies, and assumptions used.

To streamline our operations and reduce unnecessary usage of energy, water, and natural resources, IPG focuses on our people. Specifically, we are focused on increasing the efficiency of key employee processes: building operations (real estate occupied), travel and transportation, technology use, and supplier/vendor purchasing (sourcing).

Our Corporate Sustainability Policy was launched in 2010, and encourages employees to reduce impacts through four key behaviors:

- Using energy more efficiently.
- Instituting recycling programs where available.
- Managing travel more efficiently.
- Employing "green building practices" in IPG real estate holdings.

Over the years, IPG has achieved measurable results in our sustainability initiatives that include:

- 35% Reduction in Rentable Square Foot per Employee from 2004 to 2016
- 14 IPG offices are Leed certified
- All new tenant build outs conform to Leed-certified or better
- USD 5.5 Million in savings due to furniture recycling from 2007 to present

By re-utilizing furniture within the portfolio, IPG avoids purchasing new materials, while reducing landfill waste. As reported by the US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) discarded furniture represented over 4% of U.S. landfill by weight in 2010, at over 10 million tons discarded per year.

Information Technology - to improve IT operational efficiencies and reduce energy consumption, IPG has migrated its IT infrastructure and applications operations to the state-of-the-art Scott Technology Center facilities located on the campus of the University of Nebraska at Omaha (State of Nebraska).

IPG consolidated its four Global IT Data Centers to this new facility, which utilizes energy-efficient technology and virtualization. As a result, since 2008, IPG IT has decreased the number of physical servers in our production and disaster recovery facilities by 30% while increasing its hosting services; more than doubling the amount of storage. IPG also achieved a 66% reduction in IT power consumption and reduced the Central IT data center square footage by half when we centralized our data centers (starting in 2008).

IPG IT continues to adopt new energy efficient technology as older servers and storage age out and need replacement, and over the years, we have been able to continue to reduce the number of server racks and power required to run IPG's enterprise infrastructure and applications while continually adding new feature functionality. Additionally, Central IT will be moving to Jersey City, NJ, and we are working toward LEED certification in our new building there.

IPG’s nearly 50,000 employees around the world travel more than 290 million miles each year on airplanes. In 2014, the IPG travel department developed a new way to track carbon emissions related to that travel and a way for our business travelers to play a role in reducing those emissions.

While we work to limit our travel where possible, in a client services business, some of our travel is absolutely essential. Smart travel policies – traveling less where possible, traveling lighter and traveling smarter – is a shared goal that we have committed to. To help ensure that travel across our organization is as sustainable as possible, we have enhanced our online booking tool to allow business travelers to sort air travel by carbon dioxide (CO2) emissions as well as by time and cost. We have tracked the annual CO2 emissions of IPG business travel in the past. And this new system – for the first time – gives us a viable, strong lever to effect change. This new tracking system has been turned on in nearly all countries where online booking is available.

CO2 emissions are one of the main contributors to global warming, with aviation and work-related travel being a significant carbon emitter. With this new enhancement to our online travel booking tool, our business travelers can now assess comparative CO2 emissions between IPG preferred carriers, allowing us to make smarter travel choices that are also less damaging to the environment.

By understanding the impact each of us can have upon the economic, environmental, and social sustainability of our communities, our employees can contribute in small ways to the ongoing health of our communities. Our travel program that takes carbon emissions into consideration was one of the first of its kind to be instituted at a Fortune 500 company, helping make IPG a leader for our industry in this important area of sustainability.

In 2015, IPG employees around the world traveled a total of 296,957,350 miles, with total emissions of 60,899 tCO2e (metric tons of carbon dioxide equivalent).

Significant environmental impacts of transporting products and other goods and materials for the organization's operations, and transporting members of the workforce.

As a client services business, IPG does not transport appreciable amounts of material, nor does IPG manufacture or ship manufactured goods. Our primary asset is our people. And, as a company with clients and offices located all over the world, our employees do travel frequently for business. We are working to mitigate the impact of this travel in several ways.

First, IPG encourages its employees to utilize alternate meeting tools when available and when practical. Multiple file sharing systems are in place and are regularly utilized, as are video conferencing resources. In our new corporate space in New York City, several of our conference rooms are lync-enabled, which has expanded our functionality from laptops and desktops (voice, video and screen share) to the conference room audio system and LCD monitors. So employees are now able to see video stream from those speaking on one LCD monitor next to a monitor showing the presentation materials. Remote users are able to see speakers and participants in the conference room alongside presentation materials being shared from a laptop.

While while some business travel is of course absolutely essential, we are among the first Fortune 500 companies to implement a tool that allows our business travelers to take carbon emissions into consideration when booking their travel - for more information and detail on this initiative, please see our response to G4EN-17.

IPG provides Code of Conduct training each year as well as anti-harassment training to all new hires in the U.S., and to senior managers outside the U.S. Every two years, we re-train California managers, and every four years, we re-train all US employees. Our Chief Executive Officer invites and encourages all employees to take these courses and we have had good success in obtaining high levels of employee participation. Specifically:

New Hire Code of Conduct Course

5,882 completed x 50 minutes to complete = 294,100 minutes = 4,901 hours

89.2% completion rate

California Harassment course

452 completed x 120 minutes to complete = 54,240 minutes = 904 hours

CA Harassment is only for California. There is a legal requirement under CA State Law, AB1825 for supervisors in California to receive 2 hours of training every 2 years

Employee / Supervisor Harassment course

526 completed x 35 minutes to complete = 18,410 minutes = 307 hours

Combined Harassment completion percentage is 79.4%

Affirmative Action Fundamentals

1,522 completed x 30 minutes to complete = 45,660 minutes or 761 hours

Report the significant risks related to corruption identified through the risk assessment

The entirety of our operations is assessed for risks related to corruption. Some of our offices undergo more in-depth assessments, in the form of internal audits. Internal audits take place periodically at offices and geographic locations that are perceived to be high-risk, based on a matrix of objective and subjective factors. The significant risks identified relate, primarily, to the typical risks associated with using third party vendors to assist with respect to winning or maintaining government client accounts in countries that are known for high levels of corruption. We attempt to address these risks through our anti-corruption policies that require, among other things, engaging in third party due diligence, requiring third parties to agree in writing to comply with anti-corruption laws, and by training our employees to understand how to comply with these policies.

IPG regularly communicates its anti-corruption policies and procedures by a variety of methods. Some messages are intended for a broad audience (e.g., general announcement of any changes in anti-corruption policy; and anti-corruption messages which are included in the IPG Legal newsletter sent to all employees). Other messages are targeted to specific audiences, such as live anti-corruption presentations at regional finance and legal conferences and webcasts. Communications are also tailored to specific jurisdictions or in connection with circumstances that may pose increased risks. For example, during the Mid-Autumn Festival (a Chinese holiday in which business associates traditionally exchange gifts), IPG sends a reminder to Chinese employees of the company's Gift Policy. To have maximum impact, this reminder is sent by local management in the Chinese language.

All employees, worldwide, are required to take an annual Code of Conduct training, which includes anti-corruption matters. In addition, IPG Legal, Risk and Internal Audit personnel regularly conduct live, in-person training sessions for key personnel in significant, high-risk markets such as China, India, South Africa and Brazil.

Political Activities

Personal Political Activities

IPG Employees are all permitted to positively support our communities by participating in the political activities that interest us. However, we must be careful to uphold IPG's reputation by only participating in such activities on our own time and at our own expense. We may not allow any campaign or candidate to use Interpublic funds or assets, equipment or trademarks. In addition, we should never use IPG's name while taking part in these activities. We must never use our position of authority to make another employee feel compelled or pressured to participate in any way in any political event or cause, or for any political purpose.

Corporate Political Activities

Although personal political activity is welcome, as employees we may not make political contributions by or in the name of IPG or any of its subsidiaries. "Political contributions" include IPG funds and anything of value, including loans, contributions or use of goods, facilities, or services. These restrictions apply not only to direct contributions made to individual candidates, political committees, or political parties, but also to indirect contributions that would ultimately be used to support individual candidates, political committees, or political parties, such as tickets to a fundraising dinner or similar event.

IPG's Standard Policies and Procedures (SP&Ps) also address the issue of political contributions. Specifically, IPG's Anti-corruption policy, SP&P 309, states:

Due to the inherently sensitive nature of political contributions, Personnel may not pay or furnish Company funds, facilities, or services of any kind to any candidate for public office, any political party or candidate or official thereof, or any political initiative, referendum, or other form of political campaign without advance, written approval from the Company's Legal Department. The foregoing restriction does not apply to ordinary lobbying activities conducted by an agency whose regular business activities consist of such lobbying activities.

Nothing in this Policy shall preclude political contributions by Personnel from their personal funds and for personal reasons, but Personnel may not use personal funds to make any payments or contributions on behalf of, or for the benefit of, the Company.

These policies are in force for employees in all countries in which IPG operates.
